THE COGLANS RECONCILED.

Rose and Charles Will Act Together—Miss Beveridge Discarded.

ST. LOUIS, April 24.—If there was ever an estrangement between Rose and Charles Coghlan it does not exist to-day. Brother and sister met here to-day, and for over an hour they talked about their future plans. To ascertain, if possible, the reason for the visit of Mr. Coghlan, a reporter called on Miss Rose Coghlan, her brother absolutely refusing to be seen. She, in reply to questions, said: "I will state that he did not come to St. Louis to join our company. I intend to open at Madison-square Theater, New York, May 18, and as Charles will be with me, he came on here to rehearse his own play. 'Checkbook,' which we have played before, and which we intend to open with in New York."

As Miss Kuehn-Beveridge, Miss Coghlan said: "I do not know where she is, and never noticed her. I have never recognized her as my brother's wife, and, as a matter of fact, Mr. Coghlan only had one wife, and that lady is still living."

FORTUNES FOR BEARS.

Wheat Drops to 57-1-4 Cents, the Lowest Price Ever Recorded at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 24.—May wheat broke all records to-day and sold on the Board of Trade at 57 1/4 cents, the lowest price ever recorded. It was the climax of the lower and lower during the last three weeks, and the whole bull fraternity is quaking. The oldest grain trader on the floor can remember nothing like the present movement, and there are some who say wheat will reach 50 cents a bushel or less. To-day's transactions, with a few that have gone before, have made fortunes for not a few of the traders and speculators doing business on the board. It is said that the profits in this deal by J. E. Farbridge are $500,000 and S. C. Rosecrans, who has been trading with Farbridge, $100,000.

THE STRUGGLE TO-DAY

Candidates Now Await the Will of Republican State Convention.

Hon. Richard W. Thompson Chosen for Chairman and the Old Order of Business Determined Upon.

Soldiers' Home Movement Indorsed—Michener Sends a Telegram to Wilson—Gen. Harrison to Speak.

At 10 o'clock this morning the Republicans of Indiana will gather at Tomlinson Hall in State convention to nominate the ticket which will be elected by an overwhelming majority at the polls next November. The unusually immense attendance of Republicans is certainly to be considered a criterion of the sentiment in Indiana this year, and it is patent to anyone that such crowds have never before been in Indianapolis the day before a State convention. The streets yesterday were alive with people from out of town, half of them wearing badges of their favorite candidates, and the other half showing by their conversations and demeanor that they were here for politics—and good Republican politics at that. The day before yesterday, indeed, passed from one end of the Denison rotunda to the other yesterday afternoon, so dense was the jam of candidates, delegates and their friends.

There are few favorites in the races for the different nominations, and it is not recalled when the Republican convention before here the result was so much in doubt. The large number of candidates makes combinations almost impossible, the weaker candidates being the only ones to seek these combinations.

The first large delegation of the day to arrive at Tomlinson Hall, where every body is shouting for Scholz. The entire delegation wore Scholz badges, and when the members arrived at the hotel they were shouting with lusty voices for their candidate. They stopped but a short time in the rotunda of the hotel, and then proceeded upstairs to the headquarters of Scholz and made their presence known on the floor occupied by the candidates' headquarters. Next came a delegation from Anderson, proclaiming the fact that Madison county wanted John W. Lovett for Attorney-general. The supporters of W. W. Hauck, of Terre Haute, next appeared at the hotel. A delegation of several hundred came over from that city, wearing Hauck badges, and making all the noise they could for the man from Vigo, and kept their feet for several hours. The delegates with the delegates brought to him after they began to mingle with the crowds in the hotel. A delegation five hundred strong and headed by the Danville Band came over from Hendricks county for the purpose of impressing the delegates with the importance of W. R. McClelland, of Danville, as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Supreme Court.

The popularity of George W. Wilson in his own county was evidenced by a large delegation from Fort Wayne, who came "cheering" themselves hoarse for their candidate. A number of delegates from the Republican politics as George W. Wilson, Major Wainwright, Dr. Lower, William Christian, Taylor Johns and others. From Randolph county an unusually large delegation came down upon the assemblage urging the claims of Monks for Supreme Judge. Other large delegations came in from other counties.

They arrived on every train and in all numbers, from the half dozen up into the hundreds. No matter how small or how large the delegation, each was enthusiastic and full of life. The delegates from the smaller delegations the loudest they shouted for the purpose of making up in noise what they lacked in numbers. With many of the delegations women came, some of them to urge the claims of husbands or fathers. Among these was the daughter of Mr. Scholz, of Evansville, who stationed herself at her father's headquarters and did all a woman could do for the success of her father in the approaching contest. Mrs. John Lovett also took an active part in the contest, and was seen in the interest of her husband for Attorney-general. She did not confine her work wholly to the vicinity of her husband's headquarters, however, for she was in various parts of the house during the day.

The delegates from the larger delegations were not less enthusiastic. A group of delegates from the State of Ohio, who had been working for Webster S. Richey, of Muncie, for Auditor was augmented yesterday by another large delegation from that place, and swelled the crowds that swarmed his headquarters. Mr. Richey's supporters considered of success, John Wilson county sent up its full quota of work, and the delegates from the State of Indiana, who were in the interest of the Franklin Republican, for the nomination for Clerk of the Supreme Court. The delegation did not stop to shout or make noise, but immediately settled down to accept of the delegates from the State of Ohio, who had been working for Webster S. Richey, of Muncie, for Auditor was augmented yesterday by another large delegation from that place, and swelled the crowds that swarmed his headquarters.
